ROEDEAN IN THE MEDIA

From the Sunday Times Magazine – ‘Roedean was the female Eton, a byword for top marks and jolly larks. As girls’ boarding schools lose ground to co-ed rivals, can it fight the good fight?’ asks Giles Hattersley in the Sunday Times 23 October 2011. Clearly sympathetic to the school, and the Head, Hattersley describes the vibe at Roedean as ‘charmingly reassuring’ with ‘beautifully turned out young women’. With Frances King, Headmistress, a moderniser, having secured over £10m from the sale of the former St Mary’s Hall site, Hattersley concludes that Roedean will keep up the good fight.
